

Measurability properties and function with respect certain classes of measures

Tamar Kasrashvili

Ilia Vekua Institute of Applied Mathematics of Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University Georgian Technical University

We consider the behavior of additive functions from the measurability point of view. Some related questions concerning measurability properties of additive functions with respect to various classes of measures are also discussed.