Solving boundary problems of Thermoelastostatics for a porous circle with Voids

Ivane Tsagareli

The boundary problems of thermoelastostatics for a porous circle with voids are considered. The general solution of the system of equations is represented by harmonic, biharmonic and metaharmonic functions. Explicit solutions of problems are obtained in the form of series Conditions are established that ensure absolute and uniform convergence of these series.