

PpLog and its applications

PpLog is a rule-based language that extends logic programming with strategy conditional sequence transformation rules. In this talk we give an overview of the PpLog language and underline some of its applications.